

TOO MUCH DELAY IN SULLIVAN CASE

To Expedite Matters Court Orders Venire List to Be Drawn from City.

COUNSEL PROMPTLY OBJECTS

Twelve More Men Examined This Morning and Not An Additional Juror Was Secured.

THOMAS ALSTON, employe Utah Light & Railway company, city.
CAMEL OLDHAM, employe Utah Light & Railway company, city.
CHARLES DENNEY, formerly printer, Union.
HYRUM STOFFER, bricklayer, city.
HYRUM EVANS, bricklayer, city.
JOSHUA HILL, shoemaker, city.
THOMAS A. LOWRY, carpenter, city.
ROBERT HAZEN, JR., employe of McDonald Candy company, city.
H. H. RILEY, car inspector for Salt Lake Route, Mill Creek.
WILLIAM A. BOGGER, SR., farmer, Union.

Two incidents in this morning's session of the Sullivan murder trial tended to enliven the proceedings somewhat, breaking the desultory manner in which the case is proceeding.

The first interesting thing that happened was the attempt made by the defense to oust from the jury box Thomas Alston, the first juror secured and who had been sitting since Tuesday last. When court convened, at 10 o'clock, Atty. Bailey, of counsel for Sullivan, arose and, addressing the court, asked permission to submit a number of interrogations to Mr. Alston, and the request was granted.

The juror was then questioned as to his acquaintance with certain officials and guards at the state prison, and the answers given were satisfactory. Then the attorney submitted queries as to whether or not since he was sworn in, he had not talked about the Sullivan case with Deputy Sheriff and Bailiff Claude Russell. The answers of Mr. Alston were emphatically no, and Attorney Bailey was compelled to admit that he was satisfied in the premises.

It is claimed that there are a number of "spotters," who keep as close as possible to the juror in their rambles around the grounds and about the city, and who report their findings, and it is said, some things not found, to the defense.

FOURTH LIST ORDERED.

Another incident of note in today's proceedings was the action of Judge Armstrong, in ordering that the fourth list of veniremen, called for before 12 o'clock, should be made up of men from the city, or so close to the city that their presence in the court room could be secured by 2 o'clock.

Attorney Bailey began to say that the defense would object to any such procedure, when he was reminded by Judge Armstrong that such action was in the discretion of the court, and while he was willing to hear suggestions from counsel, he would take such measures to obviate any further delays as were purely within the law.

The court attaches were then instructed to draw from the box 36 names, and when numbers were read indicating residence well out from the city, instructions were given to lay such names aside. Exceptions were made of Murray, because of its closeness to the city line. When it became apparent that the number of men inaccessible would cut the list down materially, it was determined that 20 additional names should be drawn and this was accordingly done. The list was made returnable at 2 o'clock.

TWELVE EXCUSED.

Twelve men were examined this morning, and not a juror was secured. J. H. Preece, ex-city councilman, and Samuel E. Hamer, were pre-emptorily excused by the court, which has now used 10 of its 15 challenges. C. H. Reagan, a cigar merchant; John B. Dalley, P. J. Nelson, a furniture store clerk; Walter J. Lewis, book store manager; George D. Alder, insurance man; William Coates, a blacksmith; A. H. Parsons, a mining man; William Fairbourne, a farmer; and George T. Odell, implement manager, were excused by the defense for cause, all expressing fixed opinions.

The state excused but one man, for cause, Jabez W. West, Jr., a medical student at the University of Utah, who was not in favor of capital punishment. The prosecution has yet to use its third peremptory challenge.

Ten jurymen have been secured, two having been selected after the "New" went to press yesterday. They are H. H. Ryle, car inspector of Mill Creek, and William A. Bogger, Sr., a farmer, of Union.

TOUCH OF HIGH LIFE.

Grantsville Man Has Exciting Experience With Pickpocket.

Dilworth Woolley of Grantsville had rather an exciting introduction to Salt Lake life last evening. He had just come in from Tooele and had taken the R. G. W. car up town and was just about to get off at the White House corner. Finding some one peering in his rear trousers pocket, and knowing that his purse was there, he turned suddenly round, grabbed the man behind, who was making away with his pocketbook, and wrenched the purse out of his hand. He then caught the would-be thief by the coat collar, throwing his money purse back into the car, with the intention of giving the man up to the police. Thinking, however, he might not see his purse again, and perhaps that the man would stand still if he returned, he went back in the car to pick up his money. Returning to the street he was in time to see the fellow dash into the alleyway west of the Atlas building followed by a crowd. There was no police handy and the man got away.

NEW ATHLETIC CLUB.

The Granite Stake Athletic club is an assured fact, and the Calder home and grounds at Wandamere will be its headquarters. The young men of the stake are enthusiastic over the affair, and the coming week the organization will be completed, prospectus issued and announcement made for the opening which will occur about April 1. Membership in this club includes entrance to Wandamere, use of swimming pool, dance hall, besides all the privileges of the club, which will furnish gymnasium, golf, lawn tennis, basketball, cinder track, bath, library and everything which is incorporated in a fine athletic organization. The promoters are: S. H. Love, Ed. McClelland, N. J. Horne, J. Richards, Jas. T. Dunbar, Moss, Joe. Horne and Jas. T. Dunbar.

AMUSEMENTS.

Orpheum—A superior bill of attractions is promised at the Orpheum next week.

As headliners come the Picchianti troupe of eight people, five women and three men. Their work is said to be of the most highly finished order, in fact, wherever they have appeared they have been proclaimed the most wonderful acrobatic performers in the world.

Of an entirely different nature is the act of Jules and Ella Garrison, a Roman burlesque travesty. It is a real burlesque on the ancient Roman life and habits, and is one of the most hilarious sketches on the vaudeville stage.

Jordan & Harvey present an interesting and original act entitled "The Sons of Israel," which has made good everywhere.

Miss Anna Woodward is one of the features of the Grand Show at the Pittsburgh band as soloist.

One of her encore numbers is a song called "Samant," which is said to be a most tuneful bit of music.

By way of variety, Ferrell brothers, who are billed as comedians and sensationalists, promise to give an entertainment both novel and unique.

The indispensable kindred and Welthe's orchestra will fill their usual important parts.

PREST. HARVEY AT HELM.

No Changes at Independent Telephone Co. Headquarters to Announce.

President H. A. Harvey, the new executive of the Independent Telephone company, began his official duties this morning. He was called on by a "News" representative who was cordially received. But Mr. Harvey stated that as he had just stepped into the position, he had not as yet made up his mind what changes, if any, would be made; and just what the policy of the new management might be, he did not feel competent at this early hour to outline. However, in a few days Mr. Harvey said he would know just what was to be done, and could then make a statement for publication.

E. B. Jones, who has resigned the managing directorship, stated that he did not propose to leave Salt Lake which suited him very well. He said he had quite extended interests in mining and real estate, which would give him plenty to do. The offices and entire staff of the Independent company were at work this morning, as usual.

MASQUE CARNIVAL.

Prof. Kennedy will give a St. Patrick Masque Ball on Tuesday, March 17, the last of the season. This academy will give two of the above functions a year, on Halloween and St. Patrick's evenings, and as a matter of fact they are the largest and most successful functions of their kind given in the city.

The prizes to be given away for this affair can be seen at Bower's Jewelry Store.

In the great automobile race from New York to Paris, the American car seems to be in the lead but the Italian machine is gradually gaining ground. Arrangements were made with the chief dispatcher and the car started yesterday morning under the guidance of Payson Spaulding of Evanston.

A number of local automobilists went to Ogden yesterday and today to meet the racers when they reach the Junction City.

Howard Brinker of Denver, an old time automobile driver, who is to pilot the American car from Ogden to the coast, is in the Junction City ready for the start as soon as the car reaches that point.

There is considerable excitement in Ogden over the arrival of the auto and a large crowd is out to greet the contestants.

The progress of the automobiles is shown by the following press dispatches: Ogden, March 14.—At 11:45 the American car had not reached Echo, 45 miles east of Ogden. The roads are in bad condition and the automobile is traveling less than eight miles an hour.
